

Commercial Surveys

When acquiring a freehold or taking a lease, understanding the cost of your potential liabilities and costs is important to any business.

Our Chartered Building Surveyors are able to identify structural and service issues and assist in programming future repairs and maintenance, to aid in financial decisions and cost efficiency.

Commercial Surveys

Linking with our specialist landlord and tenant surveyors we can advise on future lease obligations and act for Landlord or tenant with regard to dilapidations.

Specialist advice is also available on access audits for disability, life cycle costs and or sustainable energy provisions.

We are also able to advise on both the feasibility and costs of repairs, including the design and planning of modernisation and extension works.

We can help you with phased planned maintenance work and provide advice on cyclical maintenance costs.

Assuming you are not acquiring premises through Vickery Holman and would like advice on building and service surveys, please contact:
